MEDIA KIT

Hi.

At Coyle Media Group, we provide cutting-edge multimedia solutions to help your business thrive. As a full-service media company, we create diverse, results-driven marketing and communication strategies to build your brand power.

Not only do we dominate the luxury, mature and wedding markets, we offer the platforms, tools and know-how to influence your target audience where and how it matters most. We help you make the connections that count.

Our difference is driven by over 30 years of media ownership, along with proven success across the full spectrum of communication channels. That expertise—in influencing consumer behavior and creating lasting connections—means we are not only agile in anticipating trends, but we can ensure you stand out in the dynamic and ever-evolving marketplace. We will collaborate with your business or organization to deliver the best marketing mix to amplify your message, maximize your ROI, and influence the right audience.

We admit it: We're fussy. We pay as much attention to the minor details as the master plans. Since we've been producing our own assets for over 30 years, we know ingenuity is essential, but execution is everything. Our exacting standards help us to consistently generate compelling content, quality marketing products and success for you.

We are different than the others...

We own and operate our own media platforms.

Publishing.

We publish print and digital magazines for a wide range of audiences. We provide a variety of advertising and editorial options to get your business in front of our niche markets.

Digital Media.

Reach new markets in creative ways with our digital marketing solutions, and get more visibility with the best results. Our strategic team can provide a tailored campaign to deliver your message to the right people.
